

About Lympha Press

Designed by a leading vascular surgeon, Lympha Press® devices are internationally recognized by physicians, therapists and patients as the very best compression therapy systems available.

Short treatment cycle: Mimics natural fluid movement within the limb and maximizes refill of lymphatics between pressure cycles, for better treatment in less time.

More compression cells - up to 12 per limb. Medical authorities recognize that sequential compression therapy systems with more inflation cells give better treatment. Why? Because more cells mean narrower cells, that each apply pressure to a smaller area over the affected limb. Wide cells apply pressure over a large area, causing some of the lymphatic fluids to actually flow backwards!

Narrow cells, on the other hand, increase the directionality of the pressure wave, preventing backflow. Narrow cells also make treatment more comfortable. Lympha Press® garments contain up to 12 cells per limb. Compare this to the 3- to 6-celled garments in other devices.

Fully overlapping compression cells. Lympha Press® garments have a patented overlapping cell system that ensures effective directional massage, for smooth and fluent lymphatic drainage of the entire treatment area, preventing backflow and gaps. Our overlapping cell system helps prevent the formation of "wedges," or untreated areas, in between cells that can often be seen with other sequential compression devices.

Wide selection of standard garment sizes. Good fit is important for effective treatment. Lympha Press® garments are available in over 56 standard sizes, pediatric to adult. Our standard size selection is by far the widest available on the market today. And each garment has three-point adjustments for a perfect fit.

Durable, easy to use. Lympha Press® devices are sturdy and user-friendly. Most garments have individually replaceable cells for maximum durability. All our devices can treat one or two limbs simultaneously.

Clinically proven safe and effective, recognized worldwide by patients and medical professionals as the therapy of choice.

Ballancer® Pro

Ballancer® Pro is a computerized sequential compression therapy system for use by aesthetic professionals in salons, clinics, and spas.

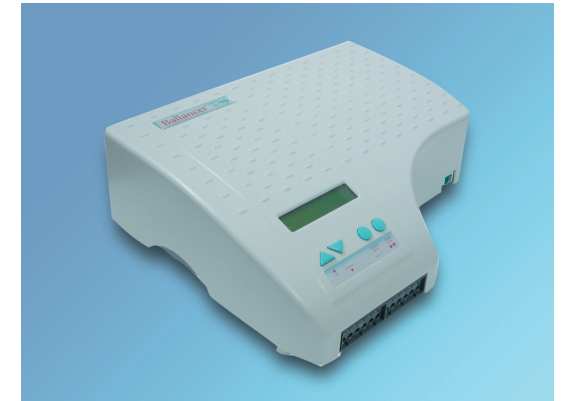

Offers 5 different massage cycles. These cycles can be combined at a touch of a button, to create personalized treatment programs to meet client's specific needs. Ballancer® Pro aids in the removal of excess interstitial waste fluids, accelerates venous and lymphatic functions and promotes total body relaxation and well being.

Choose from five treatment programs:

- 1. Pre-Therapy: Designed on the principles of manual lymphatic drainage, this unique cycle helps empty out the proximal lymphatics (the area nearest the torso). This "pre-treatment" helps encourage the lymphatic fluid to flow towards the torso during the following treatment cycles.
- 2. Ballancer: A time-based peristaltic sequential cycle, which gently moves up the limb at an even pace. This rhythmic cycle is very stimulating for the skin and the lymphatics, and can be used as the central part of the aesthetic massage session.
- 3. Lympha: A sequential cycle with emphasis on intensive lymphatic drainage.
- 4. Gradient12: A sequential cycle with the added effect of fully calibrated gradient pressure.

Allows the user to set pressure settings for each individual cell, while guaranteeing a distal - to proximal- pressure gradient.

5. Wave: A smooth peristaltic cycle that moves progressively up the limb, giving the effect of a relaxing manual massage. Ideal for venous stimulation, muscular relaxation, and post-exertion sports massage.

Other unique features:

Optional PC interface for easy data input/output via personal computer.

Client Data Management: stores and prints client data, including programs, treatment times, before- and after- measurements, etc.

The Ballancer® Pro can be used with any of our quality Ballancer® garments and accessories.

The Ballancer® Pro is the most complete, most effective professional system of its kind.
